Event runs ____ (100+ performances total)

- Park in the east or north lots and enter at the main school entrance on the east side.
- Ask at the door where we are meeting.
- There will be bleachers on both sides. When I get there that day, I will post in BAND which side our JFK spectators should sit on.
- There will be concessions – please do not eat in your uniform!

JFK Bismarck North schedule:

Middle Kix (Mon 7:00 class) – arrive in uniform by ____; perform around ____

Mini Kix I (Mon 5:00 class) – arrive in uniform by ____; perform around ____

Mini Kix II (Mon 6:00 class) – arrive in uniform by ____; perform around ____

Middle Hip Hop (Tue 7:00 class) – arrive in uniform by ____; perform around ____

These are approximate performance times. It is very difficult to predict exactly when each group will perform. These events can run ahead or behind schedule, depending on how long each routine is, how much judging time they allow between dances, and how many teams back out at the last minute. The later in the day, the more the schedule can vary. There may be very little time for each group to stretch and rehearse, or there may be a lot of down time waiting for our turn. It's best to approach these events with a go-with-the-flow attitude and just enjoy the performances. Extended family should plan to arrive well in advance, so as not to miss our performance.

This event showcases dance performances from many local schools and dance programs. There are usually over 100 performances on the schedule! I encourage JFK dancers to come early and/or stay after their performance to watch other groups. This is a fund-raiser for the Mandan Kachinas dance team. We appreciate the opportunity to be part of it.
